Surgical Strike on Space

India shoots down Low-Orbit Satellite, becomes a space power now, says PM Modi

New Delhi, Mar. 27- Prime Minister Narendra Modi this morning announced that India had joined the elite club of space powers through "Mission Shakthi" that shot down a low-orbit satellite within just three minutes with an anti-satellite missile, demonstrating the country's technical capability. The only three other members of the space super league are US, Russia and China.

"There can be no greater pride for the country," PM Modi said in an address to the nation. "This is a big moment for India — something that all of us should be proud of. We are not just capable to defend on land, water and air, but now also in space. I congratulate all scientists who have made this possible and made India a much stronger nation," he added.

The Prime Minister said "Mission Shakti" was an important step towards securing India's safety, economic growth and technological advancement. This has not been used by any country so far.

Sullying sacredness of voting

The nation's Parliament is heading to be a reality for the 17th time in a span of seven decades. Its 543 members-to-be have presented themselves before the electorate mass of about 900 million eligible voters. Two nominated members, to represent the Anglo-Indian section of the country's population, are to make up the total membership of the august House as 545 for the next five years from June this year. The message conveying the factor of sacredness of exercising the right to vote for electing their representatives by the eligible voters to the different law-making bodies of the democracy has been bestowed publicity on a scale witnessed at no time before.

The Election Commission of India, commonly mistaken as one of the arms of the government, is an autonomous Constitutional authority responsible for administering election processes in the nation to its Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha, State Legislative Assemblies and Legislative Councils, Offices of the President and Vice-President. The Commission functions under the authority of Constitution with powers to act in an appropriate manner to deal with a given situation in the conduct of elections. The model code of conduct symbolises not only the do's and don'ts that those aspiring to represent people are required to comply with but also the appropriateness of the Commission's measures to deal with the situation created by those crossing the Lakshman Rekha as it were, thus sullying the sacredness of voting.

In a throwback to the era of election during the first few decades following the first such event in 1951-52, the pre-poll scenario, as the seniors among the elderly will testify, the wanna be representatives of people didn't have to aspire but virtually emerged as the voice of the people at large. The element of sacredness was never in doubt then.

The outlook of serving the country to ensure wellness of its every citizen which earned the respect for the elected representatives then has turned into a goal of self-service now. The vote-seekers find it irksome to answer the question: Why we should vote for them? Their rhetoric is overflowing with hate and mutual accusations unwittingly portraying themselves as a mass unworthy of the votes, barring hardly any exception. The democracy, showing cracks in its structure, even as it is yawning year-on-year, has come so far, but the answer to the question: "Is it because of the people's representatives in the various law-making bodies or despite their countless misdeeds?" is as clear as daylight.

The functionaries of the government's law-keeping wings seem to be priding themselves about their pursuit of the offending lot luring the gullible voters with cash, liquor and other temptations, as being reported in cold print by the dailies. It is common knowledge that what they have confiscated is the proverbial tip of the iceberg, even as the vote-seekers have no qualms about sullying the sacredness of votes.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Has anyone heard of a statue of a Postman? But the khaki-clad, satchel-carrying dispenser of communication was actually awarded a statue. The postal employees and people of Belgaum joined hands to erect a Postman's statue, which was inaugurated two months back. The idea for the same was not born in the rarefied environs of some highly-placed bureaucrat, but rather as a result of casual banter between a few colleagues working in the Belgaum GPO. One among them said he wanted to give something back to the Department. What a noble thought! Soon, a local idol-maker was given the task of designing and building the statue. But, apparently, this is not the first and the only ode to the humble Postman. Anche Basappa's (Postman Basappa) statue lies in front of KARP Mounted Police Headquarters in Mysuru and is over a 100 years old. He apparently ran from place to place delivering mails back then. No wonder he was accorded a statue! [See also page 7]

Female vigilants guarding forest since 20 years

Gundalba: About 75 female volunteers from Gundalba, a small village in the Mahanadi delta of Puri district, Odisha State have been patrolling a 75-hectare forest every day to protect it from woodcutters and timber smugglers.

In 1999, the eastern State of Odisha was ravaged by a supercyclone and people lost their homes and crops and had to go without food or clothing for several days. But the people in Gundalba realised that the only reason they were still alive was because of a forest that had shielded them from the brunt of the devastation.

They knew they had to protect it at all costs, but with the men busy rebuilding the village after the supercyclone, the task of watching over the forest fell to the women. They quickly formed a vigilante group and have been taking turns patrolling the forested area in search of timber smugglers and woodcutters for the last 20 years.

Teen helps parents name their babies

Beijing: A teen entrepreneur, has earned hundreds of thousands of dollars through her ingenious online service, Special Name, which helps Chinese parents choose an appropriate English name for their babies.

Finding a name for a baby is a big deal in China. When picking out their child's Chinese name, parents usually select two or three characters that have a carefully thought out meaning, but when deciding on an English name – to help them interact with native English-speakers easier – many of them struggle. That's where 19-year-old Beau Jessup and her company, 'Special Name', comes in. For a small fee, 'Special Name' suggests several English names that have different traits, associated with them. Jessup has helped name 6,77,900 Chinese babies, and earned over $4,00,000 in the process, more than enough to cover her college expenses.

Sumalatha to the power of 4 in Mandya

Three rural Sumalathas file nomination papers to compete with the original actress 'Sumalatha'

Sumalatha Ambarish

P. Sumalatha

Sumalatha Manjegowda

Sumalatha

Mandya, Mar. 27 (Nagaiah&SR)- The Mandya Lok Sabha (LS) Constituency has attracted the nation's attention as actor-turned-politician late Ambarish's wife Sumalatha is taking on Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil Kumaraswamy.

As days get near for the political battle in this high-voltage Constituency, the poll scene is becoming more and more interesting and intriguing and the latest is three more candidates with Sumalatha's name filing their nominations as independent candidates.

In all, there are four Sumalathas vying for one Lok Sabha seat, taking on the all-powerful Nikhil Kumaraswamy who has the entire JD(S) machinery backing him, starting from the CM, his cabinet colleagues and Congress top brass to the lower-rung party worker.

JD(S) supporter Sumalatha, wife of Manjegowda from Goravi village of K.R. Pet Taluk, Sumalatha, wife of Siddegowda of T.M. Hosur village of Srirangapatna taluk under Mandya LS Constituency and one more P. Sumalatha, wife of Darshan of Ranganatha Badavane of Kanakapura town of Ramanagaram district in Bengaluru Rural Constituency filed their papers. Even actress Sumalatha is contesting as an independent.

They filed nominations at DC's Office yesterday separately accompanied by JD(S) leaders of the district, raising suspicion of the ploy played by JD(S) as part of the election strategy to defeat their strong rival and BJP-supported Sumalatha Ambarish.

This move of JD(S) leaders looks like they have taken a leaf out of Ninasam Satish-fame Kannada movie, 'Ayogya', where several people with matching names of 'Bachchegowda' character are shown to have entered election fray to confuse the voters of the Constituency. The move, however, drew flak from people of various quarters.

Going by the history of elections from local bodies to Zilla Panchayat, Assembly to Parliament, this is not for the first time such duplicates of prominent candidates are being fielded in the electoral fray.

Such game is played by many political parties during every election especially when there is a keen contest, only to spoil the chances of rivals. Here too, similar tactics are adopted only to create confusion among the voters, with Sumalatha riding high on the sympathy wave which was evident when a large number of supporters gathered in Mandya when she filed her nominations recently.

Moreover, what has caught the attention of rival camp is the day chosen to file the nominations — the last day — without giving a chance for a counter move. On the other hand, Sumalatha's supporters also filed another three sets of nominations on behalf of their leader at DC's office yesterday as the actress was busy campaigning in Srirangapatna taluk.

All four Sumalathas eye similar election symbols

Interestingly, all the four Sumalathas including Sumalatha Ambarish who filed their papers as independents have urged the Election Commission of India (ECI) to allot the same symbols that were chosen by Sumalatha.

Sumalatha Ambarish, who is riding on the sympathy wave with the support of BJP and cine stars Darshan and Yash, Raitha Sangha and other progressive parties have selected three symbols like coconut farm, farmer blowing a trumpet and a farmer standing near sugarcane field. She has appealed the EC to allot any one of the symbols.

Sources told Star of Mysore that Sumalatha had selected these symbols that reflect the pride, culture, upholding the dignity and self-respect of the people of Mandya. Sumalatha has chosen this symbols as people of Mandya spend most of their time working in sugarcane fields and coconut farms daily. The symbol like farmer blowing a trumpet will reflect self-respect image of the people of Mandya to drive home the message that they were against dynastic politics of former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda family.

The other three Sumalathas too have also demanded the Election Commission to allot the same symbols to confuse the officials too. However, the ECI will allot the symbols to these independent candidates only after the process of completion of withdrawal of nominations on Mar. 29.

He has disobeyed his superiors and the lawful orders passed against him and sinned against God the Almighty.

When the conduct of Rev. Osmond N Shiri in the CSI Sawday Memorial Church became unbearable and started sending a wrong message to all the CSI members, and to the General Public and gone rampant without any check, the CSIKSD through a resolution in the Executive Committee Meeting formed a Diocesan Court as per the CSI constitution to conduct disciplinary enquiry on the charges levelled against Rev. Osmond N Shiri. The Diocesan court after enquiry had given its finding held that all the charges against Rev. Osmond N Shiri including looting of CSI Sawday Memorial Church money and disobedience of transfer order and suspension order etc. are proved.

The CSIKSD after careful perusal of the finding given by Diocesan Court and gave a final opportunity to him to reform himself. However Rev. Osmond N Shiri continued behaving arrogantly questioning the authenticity of the Diocesan court and CSI and refused to comply with the transfer order and to submit account for the misappropriation of funds of CSI Sawday Memorial Church, Tilaknagara, Mysore. So after a fair hearing as per the principles of natural justice CSIKSD in its order dated 11.02.2019 terminated Rev. Osmond N Shiri from service and removed his name from the Pay Roll of the Karnataka Southern Dioceses of the Church of South India forthwith. In spite of his dismissal from service Rev. Osmond N Shiri shamelessly again started interfering with the pastoral work and the ensuing Pastorate Committee Election work by his successor Rev. Victor, trying to cause disturbance to the peaceful atmosphere in the church premises and during worship, keeping some goonda elements around him and also by bribing some members of the law protecting agency of the state. The CSIKSD and the majority of the CSI Sawday Memorial Church members have taking stringent action against the said Rev. Osmond N Shiri to throw him out from the Church Premises and the said person would soon get the wages of his sin.

It is hereby notified that availing any service from Rev. Osmond N Shiri in the name of CSIKSD would be in violation of the orders of the CSIKSD. Hence the congregation members of CSI Karnataka Southern Diocese are hereby also notified not to avail any worship service or pastoral duty of Rev. Osmond N Shiri who is no more in the Church of South India and not to associate themselves with the said person who is entangling CSIKSD in frivolous litigations.

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka tells why animals have to be spayed or neutered before adoption

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

Is the killing of an insect the moral equivalent to killing of a bird or a mammal?

All lives are the same and each being clings to life whether it is a fly or an elephant or a human being. In terms of value to the earth, almost all insects and animals/ birds are far more valuable than human beings, because they take little, live harmoniously and nurture the planet. The human does the opposite. So whose life should have more moral value? The problem is that humans create these "morals" to suit themselves and any being that makes them uncomfortable in any way is "justifiably" killed.

Why do animals have to be spayed or neutered before adoption?

By spaying or neutering your pet you'll help control the pet homelessness crisis, simply because there aren't enough homes to go around. There are also medical and behavioural benefits to spaying (female pets) and neutering (male pets) your animals. Your female pet will live a longer, healthier life. Spaying helps prevent uterine infections and breast tumours, which are malignant or cancerous in about 50 percent of dogs and 90 percent of cats. Spaying your pet before her first heat offers the best protection from these diseases. Neutering your male companion prevents testicular cancer and prostate problems.

Another reason is that unscrupulous breeders often pretend to be dog/ cat lovers and they come and adopt animals for free and then breed them and make money.

Is it morally right to legalise betting on horse racing?

It is not morally right to legalise betting on horse racing as this only promotes the sport, which is nothing but torture to animals. The horse is not a willing participant; it is forced, beaten and drugged to run. Racehorses are the victims of a multibillion-dollar industry that is rife with drug abuse, injuries, and race fixing, and many horses' careers end in slaughterhouses. Horses begin training, or are already racing, when their skeletal systems are still growing and are unprepared to handle the pressures of running on a hard track at high speeds. Improved medical treatment and technological advancements have done little to remedy the plight of the racehorse. Horse racing isn't as glamorous as it seems, it's a cruel sport. The people who go to watch the races know nothing about horses and care even less. They are there for the betting and the chance to be seen in society.

Is it true that the world will perish without bees?

As far as important species go, they are top of the list. They are critical pollinators: they pollinate 70 of the around 100 crop species that feed 90% of the world. Honey bees are responsible for $30 billion a year in crops. That's only the start. We will lose all the plants that bees pollinate, all of the animals that eat those plants and so on up the food chain. Which means a world without bees could struggle to sustain the global human population of 9 billion. You would lose most fruits and vegetables.

We are losing bees at an alarming rate. Possible reasons include the loss of flower meadows, the crab-like varroa mite that feasts on their blood, climate change, and use of pesticides. This issue has to be taken more seriously.

Can animals donate blood to each other?

Yes, animals can donate blood to each other. Every day hundreds of animals need blood transfusions. Typically, when an animal donates blood, she is typed and checked for blood-borne infectious diseases. Similar to human blood types, there are five major canine blood types, and one is a universal donor, like our "O negative." The universal blood type can be used once on almost any animal without much chance of side effects or adverse reactions.

The actual process of donating blood is quite simple. It takes about 30 minutes and does not require anaesthesia. Blood is taken from the jugular vein — the large vein that runs along the neck. Giving blood will not hinder your pet's normal activities. Though few, the drawbacks of donating blood may include a slight swelling at the site where the blood was taken. Do not take blood from an underfed stray just because it is free and no one cares if the dog dies. This is criminal.

Is a hamster locked up in a cage equal to a child locked up in a basement?

It's like locking you up forever in a mobile cage and leaving you to the mercy of a species that doesn't understand your needs. Imagine being locked up in a world of giant hamsters.

No hamster was born to be a pet, and you shouldn't keep any pets, except dogs and cats, as all the others are specially bred. You don't know hamsters, cannot interact with them or even feed them properly. They don't interact with humans and simply live to be fed. Is that fair?

Can my bitch be spayed while she is on heat?

Spaying while in season is more risky than at any other time, as the uterus, vulva and womb will all be inflamed and rich with blood, making spaying more difficult and risky than it is at other times. Unless there is an urgent reason for spaying while in season, your vet will probably refuse to spay your bitch until after the heat cycle has finished.

Is it safe to keep food for Indian crows outside my house? What kind of food can I keep for crows and other birds?

I think it is important to feed birds in all urban areas in two ways: by planting fruit and nesting trees for them, and to actually feed them by leaving food for them daily.

In India it is culturally important to feed crows because of the ideology, that they link the dead and alive.

However, if we have to feed birds, then it is important to feed them with caution. Do it in areas that are protected from humans and don't create a nuisance for bird haters, who will use the excuse of dirt to be mean to them.

The easily available food items that are safe to feed birds are fruits, crushed nuts, whole grain bread, oatmeal, raw grains like rice, and rotis. Avoid feeding apple seeds, chocolate, tomatoes, onions, dried beans, salt and caffeine.

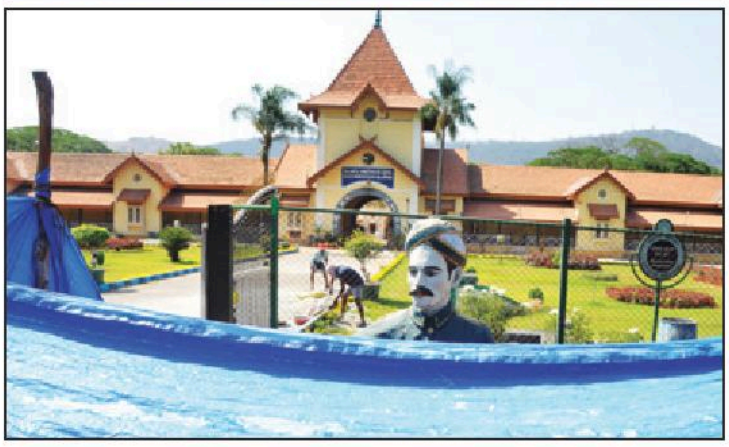
Shifting of iconic statues of Postman, Commandant from Main Road



Pedestal work in progress inside Mounted Police Headquarters

Mysuru, Mar. 27 (PM&BCT)- Shifting of the life-size statues of a Commandant and a Postman on Lalitha Mahal Road in front of KARP Mounted Police Headquarters has begun in order to conserve the heritage-value structures that were facing the danger of destruction due to the road widening works on the stretch.

The statues of Postman Basappa and Commandant Bhujangarao Jagadale have earned the attraction of every motorist passing by and have completed 111 years. The statues are being shifted to the premises of Mounted Police Headquarters as recommended by the Committee of Heritage Experts. The Committee had recommended the Mounted Police to shift the statues at the gate entrance to deep inside the premises.

The District Heritage Committee had felt the need to shift the statues as they are facing a threat due to a lot of pressure on the road, thanks to high vehicle density. The statues will now be placed at vantage points so that their visibility is not obstructed. The shifting work has been taken up by the Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage.

Both the statues are over 5 ft tall and new pedestals and mantaps to house the statues are being constructed at Mounted Police premises. While Postman Basappa's statue will be on the right side of the Mounted Police Headquarters, Commandant Bhujangarao Jagadale's statue will be on the left.

"The statues have been designed using limestone, water, sand and lime plaster. We will preserve the originality of the statues and the shifting process is being undertaken under the guidance of the Heritage Committee," said K.M. Kuberappa of Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage.

Postman Basappa

Erected in 1907, the statues are of great heritage value and they recall the contribution of Postman Basappa and Commandant Bhujangarao Jagadale. The statue of the Postman is not the only one in India. One more postman statue has been constructed in Belagavi. The statue in Mysuru has been erected in honour of Postman Basappa or Anche (Post) Basappa who was a Postman during the reign of Maharaja Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar.

The Maharaja recognised Basappa's contribution in delivering posts to the doorsteps of people and he installed his statue. Historians say that Anche Basappa was an athlete who later became a Postman. Rain or shine, he used to run to the doorsteps of one house to the other to deliver posts without fail.

He used to deliver every post in time to the addressees by walk and did not even use a cycle. Basappa, who never took leave during his service, became famous as 'Postmama' for his unique style of delivering posts, said Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, a heritage expert of the city who is also a Member of the Heritage Committee.

While delivering posts at the doorstep of every house, Basappa used to hear the problems, if any, of each house and tried to find solutions for the same. As such, the people considered Postman Basappa as one among their family. Children too were very fond of this Postman and often shared their moments with him.

Commandant Bhujangarao Jagadale

Bhujangarao Jagadale served as a Mounted Guard or Commandant of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar in 1907 and later became the head of a small group of Mounted Police Force. He was a member of the erstwhile Mysuru Rulers Polo Team and had earned accolades for his Polo skills.

Prof. Rangaraju said that Bhujangarao Jagadale used to play Polo with Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar and was known for his discipline and uprightness. Hence, Nalwadi wanted Bhujangarao to set an example to others and ordered for installing his statue. Nalwadi also named Bhujangarao as his Army Commandant. Bhujangarao has the credit of according a Guard of Honour on behalf of the Maharaja when Mahatma Gandhi and Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel visited Mysuru. He was known for his baritone voice while leading a parade at those times when there was no facility of mikes and loudspeakers. His voice could be heard loud and clear even by the last row of soldiers in the parade.

Nalwadi's gesture

Prof. Rangaraju said that Nalwadi had a great connect with the common man and responded to their difficulties. As an instance, he said that once Nalwadi was on his way to Chamundi Hill and he spotted an old man climbing the Hill with much difficulty. The very next day, Nalwadi gave the old man a walking stick with a silver handle.

"Once a cobbler came to Nalwadi and said that he does not have money to marry his daughter. Moved by his plight, Nalwadi gave him money and after the marriage, the cobbler came to Nalwadi to return the money that was unspent. Nalwadi asked the cobbler to keep the money, appreciating his promptness," Rangaraju said and added that there were many instances like these that go on to prove that Nalwadi was a great humanist.

Another Postman statue installed at Belagavi

While the first statue of the Postman was installed in Mysuru 100 years back, the second one in the country was installed in Belagavi as a tribute to the selfless service of millions of Postal Department workers. The statue was installed on Jan. 13, 2019.

Officers and personnel of the Department of Posts had contributed towards the cost of the statue.

The eight-foot bronze statue weighs 350 kg. It was sculpted by Vinayak Manohar Patil of Belagavi. The Circle is now known as Postman Circle and the road in front of the Head Post Office will be known as Head Post Office Road.

Surgical Strike on Space

PM Modi had tweeted that he would address the nation with an "important message". It is unusual for a Prime Minister to address the nation in the middle of the campaign for the national election next month, when a code of conduct is in place.

"Today I would be addressing the nation at around 11:45 AM - 12.00 noon with an important message. Do watch the address on television, radio or social media," PM Modi had tweeted earlier. Speculation peaked as it emerged that the PM had met top Ministers in the Cabinet Security Committee at his residence in the morning.

The Opposition parties have slammed the announcement in the middle of the campaign for next month's national election, when a code of conduct is in place. Some parties have appealed to the Election Commission, but sources in the top poll body have said that "no permission of poll panel is needed for security related issues being announced."

The last time PM Modi addressed the nation so suddenly was on Nov. 8, 2016, when he announced demonetisation or the overnight ban on Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000 notes. He addressed the nation on Dec. 31 that year as the 50-day deadline to deposit or exchange the scrapped notes came to an end.

Trade Licence Renewal Mela

Mysuru, Mar. 27(RK&SR)-The Trade Licence Renewal Mela organised by Mysore Hotel Owners Association with the support of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) at its premises in Krishnamurthypuram here received good response from hotel owners this morning.

Over 300 hotel owners got their Trade Licence renewed on the spot. The MCC has deputed more than 25 staff for distribution of challan, collection of fees and to expedite the process of online payment of fees for Trade Licence renewal.

The mela, which began at 10 am will go on till 4 pm today. The Association has organised the mela for the benefit of hotel owners to get the licence renewed under one roof without any hassle.

Set up onsite compost units

Speaking after inaugurating the mela, MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag directed all owners of hotels that produce large quantity of garbage to set up their own compost unit to avoid fines and even cancellation of Trade Licence.

According to the Solid Waste Management Rules-2016 and protocol for star rating of garbage-free cities, all bulk garbage generators in commercial category, including hotels, restaurants, function halls, IT companies and other industries, food courts, malls, institutions etc., that produce an average of 50 kgs of waste a day must install composting machines in their premises to process the wet waste, she added.

She said that MCC collects a revenue of Rs. 5 crore from over 30,000 Trade Licence holders every year in city. Of this, 500 are restaurants and big hotels, she added.

She also appreciated the hotel owners for their contributions in promotion of tourism as well as helping the city bag the third place in Swachh Survekshan 2019 ranking.

Earlier, Association President C. Narayanagowda demanded the MCC to relax its rules on collection of double tax and double trade renewal fees from non Completion Report (CR) building hotel owners besides urging to drop the demand of producing revenue paid receipts from hotel owners during the renewal of Trade Licence.

MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag promised to look into the demand after discussing the same at the MCC Council meeting and with other higher government authorities. She said the city was adjudged third cleanest city among 4,237 cities in Swachh Survekshan Survey 2019.

Speaking after distributing the papers bags initiated by Hotel Lakshman to make Mysuru plastic-free, MCC Health Officer Dr. D.M. Nagaraj wanted the hotel owners to follow the same to make Mysuru free from plastic pollution.

Recycle used edible oil to produce bio-fuel

Dr. Nagaraj also asked the hotel owners to recycle the used edible oil generated from their hotels for production of fuel. MCC has planned to set up such a bio-fuel unit by using used edible oil. MUDA has allotted four acres of land for MCC to set up this unit in city. Used edible oil will be recycled once this unit is commissioned, he added.

Mysuru City Corporation Deputy Commissioner (Revenue) Kumar Nayak, Mysore Hotel Owners Association Office-bearers Ravishastri, Ugraiah, Subramanya Tantri and others were present.

Will new-found DKS and HDK bonding end in family alliance?

Bengaluru, Mar.27 (KMS& BCT)- Even as Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil Kumaraswamy, who is making a political debut by contesting from Mandya Lok Sabha seat, has publicly announced that he was an eligible bachelor and would marry a girl from Mandya if there is an opportunity, rumours are rife that he will marry the daughter of Congress strongman D.K. Shivakumar from Kanakapura, over 40 kilometres from Mandya.

If reports from Bengaluru are to be believed, arch-rivals-turned-thick-friends CM H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) and D.K. Shivakumar (DKS) are looking at the possibility to bond their friendship further through this marriage. As an indication to this new-found bonhomie, Shivakumar was there when Nikhil filed his nomination papers from Mandya on Monday and had posed as one of the members of Kumaraswamy family.

Their closeness was for everyone to see and even when Shivakumar's brother D.K. Suresh filed his papers yesterday from Bengaluru Rural Parliamentary Constituency where Kumaraswamy and Nikhil Kumaraswamy were present. Notably, except for

Kumaraswamy Shivakumar

Shivakumar, no other Congress Leader was present in Mandya when Nikhil filed his papers.

All these developments have raised brows in political circles and even during the last Assembly polls when Anitha Kumaraswamy won from Ramanagaram constituency, Kumaraswamy and his family visited Shivakumar's house in Sadashivanagar to thank the latter for his efforts in ensuring Anitha's victory.

Sources said that both the families have examined the horoscope of Nikhil and Shivakumar's daughter (name withheld as the alliance has not been finalised and to protect her identity) and Anitha Kumaraswamy was impressed by the girl's personality and behaviour and they instantly bonded.

Kumaraswamy's family too was impressed by Shivakumar's family and now there are talks of cementing the relationship with the wedding.

As Kumaraswamy's family firmly believes in astrology, the horoscopes were presented to astrologers who have reportedly given their green signal to the alliance and both the horoscopes perfectly matched. CM's wife Anitha is keen to have Shivakumar's daughter as her daughter-in-law and even Nikhil is willing to marry the Congress strongman's daughter, sources said. This has paved the way for initial talks between the two families, say sources.

Shivakumar's daughter manages her father's Global Academy of Technology, an engineering college near Rajarajeshwari Nagar. It is, however, not clear if Shivakumar and Kumaraswamy are keen on the alliance.

A few months ago, Anitha turned down a proposal by Kumaraswamy from Andhra Pradesh. The couple went to see a girl in Vijayawada in September last year. The girl was the daughter of Bodapudi Siva Kotesswara Rao, who owns Profit Shoe Company Private Limited.

In 2015, Nikhil was engaged to Swathi, the daughter of film producer K.C.N. Mohan. It was, however, called off after a few months, sources said.

Prajwal Revanna calls on ex-CM, Dy.CM and KPCC President

Seeks Congress support

Bengaluru, Mar.27- Three days after filing his nominations for the Hassan parliamentary seat, JD(S)-Congress Coalition candidate Prajwal Revanna, son of PWD Minister H.D. Revanna, visited former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Dy.CM Dr. G. Parameshwara and Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President Dinesh Gundu Rao and sought their support for his candidature. Prajwal, who arrived alone, spoke with three leaders for some time, before heading back to Hassan for his election campaign.

Speaking to reporters after meeting Siddaramaiah at his official residence 'Cauvery' in city yesterday, Prajwal said that his family had maintained good ties with Siddaramaiah and he knew the former CM from his childhood. "He has promised to campaign for me in Assembly constituencies like Kadur, Arakalgudu, Arasikere and Hassan (where Siddaramaiah's community, the Kurubas are present in large numbers). I have come here to seek his blessings," Prajwal said

Answering a question, the grandson of JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda said that he was not scared of Hassan BJP candidate A. Manju, just because he was able to ensure a huge gathering when he filed his nomination.

"I have never criticised him, nor I will resort to such a style of politics. You can get a crowd by paying money, I don't need to do such things," he added.

Later he met Dr. Parameshwara at the Office of Bengaluru Development Authority. Dr. Parameshwara promised to campaign for Prajwal at Sakaleshpur constituency and few places of Hassan and other places.

Speaking to media after meeting Dinesh Gundu Rao at KPCC Office , Prajawal said that Dinesh Gundu Rao has also promised to campaign for him in Hassan.

State urged to drop introduction of English medium in Govt. Schools

President of Kannada Kriya Samithi P. Mallesh addressing the gathering at the 'Chintana Sabha' held in city recently as littérateur Prof. K. S. Bhagawan, Journalist Basavaraj, General Secretary of Kannada Kriya Samithi S.R. Sudarshan and others look on.

Mysuru, Mar.27 (RKB&SR)- Members of Kannada Kriya Samithi have demanded the State Government to take measures to teach English more effectively instead of introducing English medium in 1,000 selected Government-run Schools from the next academic year.

The Samithi passed a resolution in this regard at the State-level meeting organised by the Samithi at Nrupatunga Kannada School, Ramakrishna Nagar in city on Sunday.

Stating that the Governor had returned the proposal of making Kannada as a medium of instruction (for standard one to four) back to the Government, they urged that the Karnataka Government to withdraw its order passed in this regard.

The State Government has still not rehashed the legislation and sent it back to the Governor; and later for Presidential assent, they regretted. They said that the State Government was already teaching English as a subject from first standard in Government Schools and the Government must initiate measures for effective English teaching instead of introducing the language as a medium of instruction, which would be detrimental to the interests of Kannada, they added.

The meeting also decided to send this resolution to the heads of District Kannada Sahitya Parishat in all districts besides to all pro-Kannada activists, littérateurs and experts to launch a movement to fight against the introduction of English medium from next academic year.

Speaking on the occasion, littérateur Prof. K.S. Bhagawan said that English medium schools were mushrooming in cities, towns and villages and added that a majority of parents were encouraging their children to study in such schools. Moreover, the Supreme Court has left the issue of choosing the medium of instruction of children to their parents, he added.

Kannada Kriya Samithi President P. Mallesh, who also spoke, said that writers from all over the State were invited to the meeting where the status of Kannada in the State was being discussed and condemned writers who held posts in Government organisations for ignoring the invite.

Kannada Development Authority Chairman S.G. Siddharamaiah, Kuvempu Basha Bharati Pradhikara Chairman Marulasiddappa, Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Manu Baligar, Kannada Book Authority Chairperson Vasundhara Bhupathi were invited for the meeting, but they failed to turn up for this meeting, he pointed out.

Coming down heavily on Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, Mallesh said that though the Chief Minister had assured that the Government would not implement English medium in schools, the order had been passed and the Government was indeed implementing it.

He said that their opposition was not against teaching English but against making English a medium of instruction in Government Schools. Writers Chennaveera Kanavi and Chidananda Murthy have expressed their support through letters addressed to the Samithi, he added.

Kannada Kriya Samithi General Secretary S.R. Sudarshan, Office-bearers Samskruthi Subramanya, K.S. Narasimhamurthy, M.B. Vishwanath, littérateur Hanur Krishnamurthy, Horeyala Doreswamy, Prof. Kalegowda Nagawara, Prof. C.P. Siddashrama, Prof S.A. Talawara, G.P. Basavaraju, Dr. C.G. Ushadevi, H.S. Vasanthamma, C.N. Mahadevaswamy, D.N. Purushottamrao, S. Balakrishna, Krishna Janamana, Dr. H.T. Shailaja and others were present.

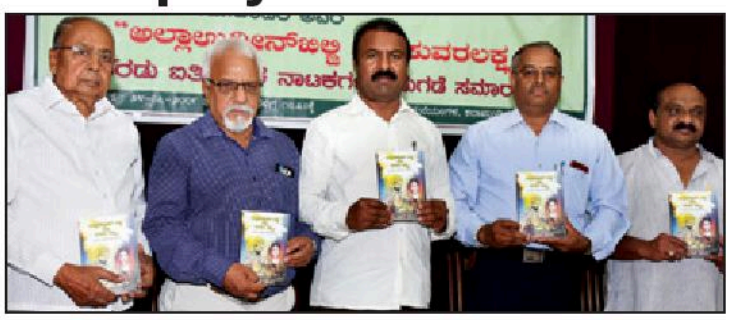
Book featuring historical plays released



Mysuru, Mar. 27 (PM&DM)- Author B. Shamsundar's work titled Allauddin Khilji Mathu Kuvaralakshma, a book featuring two historical plays, was released by Dr. L.N. Swamy, faculty of History, Vijaya First Grade College, T. Narasipur at a programme jointly organised by Mysuru District Kannada Sahitya Parishat and Mahima Prakashana at Maneyangala in Kalamandira here on Sunday.

Speaking about the book, former Professor of Ancient History and Archaeology Prof. N.S. Rangaraju said that the author has written the two plays without any exaggeration and after a thorough study of historical facts.

Pointing out that Khilji Dynasty ruler Allauddin Khilji and Kuvaralakshma, a Minister in the Hoysala empire were two totally divergent personalities, Prof. Rangaraju said that while Khilji was a cruel emperor, Kuvaralakshma was a compassionate Minister.

Emphasising on the need for the present generation to learn about our history, he said that the book provides a deep insight into the divergent personalities of Khilji and Kuvaralakshma.

Underlining that historical incidents must be seen with a historical background, he regretted the recent tendency of writing history as a prestige issue, focusing only on individual opinions while ignoring historical facts.

Parishat President Dr.Y.D. Rajanna, ex-President M. Chandrashekar, author B. Shamsundar and others were present.

Music Sabhas fete Padma Shri awardee Pt. Rajeev Taranath

Sarod Maestro Pt. Rajeev Taranath being felicitated at a function organised by Federation of Mysuru City Music and Dance Associations at JSS Women's College auditorium in city on Mar.25, as Suttur Seer Sri Shivrathri Deshikendra Swamiji, Veteran Theatre Artiste Dr. N. Ratna, art patron K.V. Murthy, Hindustani Singer Ustad Faiyaz Khan and others look on.

Mysuru, Mar.27 (SPN&NNN)- In a fitting tribute to Pandit Rajeev Taranath, the Mysuru Nagarada Sangeetha Mattu Nritya Samsthegala Okkuta (Federation of Mysuru City Music and Dance Associations) felicitated the Sarod Maestro for being conferred the Padma Shri award this year.

The function was organised on Mar.25 at JSS Women's College auditorium in Saraswathipuram.

Replying to the felicitation, Pt. Taranath said, "I have been criticising the state of art and culture in Mysuru on several platforms on a number of occasions in the past. This time I am not going to criticise the Mysuru literary circles. That is because in spite of my caustic remarks, they have come together to felicitate me, which I truly appreciate."

"Earlier, in various public forum, I had said that Mysureans did not have primary knowledge about music. I have also commented that they have not learnt to respect Sarod and Hindustani music. In spite of all these, you have chosen to felicitate me by arranging a felicitation function. I will always be grateful for this honour," he said.

"The Padma Shri awardee artistes and littérateurs went to Delhi to receive the award from the President. However, I did not go. The reason is, I have received the highest honour than Padma Shri several years ago. That is my Guru Ustad Ali Akbar Khan Saab's blessings. I am placing all the awards that I have received so far at the feet of my Guru," said Pt. Taranath.

Art, culture, music must get pride of place: In our country, art, culture and music is unique to each State and people learn it differently according to the culture of that place. Hence, the emphasis on Hindustani and Karnatak music is different in North and South India. But, in Mysuru both forms of music has grown very well.

"However, the importance that needs to be given to music is not found. Unlike in neighbouring Tamil Nadu, Andhra and Mumbai, where the artistes are revered. This culture must also be developed in Mysuru," suggested Pt. Taranath.

Veteran Theatre artiste and former Director of All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH) Dr. N. Ratna said, "Pt. Rajeev Taranath lays equal stress on art and humanism. He has shown a way of life to many students who have trusted him. I can give many such examples myself. It is befitting that such a great artiste has been honoured with Padma Shri."

Hindustani Singer Ustad Faiyaz Khan said that the achievements of Pt. Taranath cannot be measured in words. He is a tall figure, both figuratively and literally and a guiding light to young artistes. He breathes and lives music even today and has continued the tradition of Guru-Shishya relationship.

Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji graced the occasion. Art patron and industrialist K.V. Murthy and others were present.

Head Constable suspended for stopping Minister's car

Mysuru, Mar.27 (RK&KS)- A Head Constable (HC), attached to Kuvempunagar Police Station, has been suspended on charges of dereliction of duty for stopping the car of a Minister which had come on the road restricted for vehicular movement. The HC, who has been suspended by the DCP, is Venkatesh.

Details: On Mar.25 afternoon, HC Venkatesh was on duty on the road near Maharani's College that connects the DC's office. The staff was instructed by their higher officials not to allow any vehicle on that road as vehicular movement on this road was banned.

Meanwhile, Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, who came in a car from Devaraj Urs Road side, entered the road that was restricted for vehicular movement to go to the DC's office as Congress candidate C.H. Vijayashankar was filing his nomination paper. Section 144 too was imposed on that road.

HC Venkatesh, who was on duty, stopped the car and reportedly told the car driver that he would speak to his higher ups before allowing the car to proceed further. Irked over this, S.R. Mahesh immediately called the higher Police officials over the phone and allegedly demanded suspension of the HC.

It is learnt that the Police official, who had received the Minister's call immediately called up KR Sub-Division ACP and instructed him to give report on dereliction of duty by HC Venkatesh. But the ACP is said to have excused himself by giving reasons. The Police Official then called NR Sub-Division ACP and instructed him to give a report, but here too, the ACP is said to have given reasons and excused himself.

The Police official finally took the report from Devaraja Sub-Division ACP and in order to please the Minister, suspended Venkatesh on Monday night, according to the news, which is doing rounds in the Police circle. If a Police staff is suspended for following the orders and that too overnight, how can other staff follow the orders of the Election Commission, is million dollar question.

Manual scavenging incident at Ashokapuram

Mysuru, Mar.27 (MK&KS)- Workers being made to get down into a manhole and clean it has taken place on Ambedkar Road at Ashokapuram here yesterday. The incident took place during the ongoing manhole works at MCC Ward No.56 limits.

When the matter was brought to the notice of Corporator Begum Pallavi, she said that the incident has taken place without her notice and added that some people had sent her photos of workers inside the manhole. She further stated that she was near the DC's office when she received the photos and rushed to the spot and added that the workers had left the place by the time she arrived at the spot.

Stating that the workers who had entered into the manhole were not Pourakarmikas, she said that manhole works were going on in the area and the workers were brought by Contractor Ajay.

Meanwhile, MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag said that the incident had come to her notice and she has already issued a notice to the concerned Engineer seeking information.

She further said that manhole works were going on in the locality and the persons who had got into the manhole were not Pourakarmikas besides stating that strict action would be taken if they were Pourakarmikas.

N. Puneeth, a resident, said that making Pourakarmikas to indulge in manual scavenging is a murder of humanity. It looks like the society has forgotten that Pourakarmikas are also the members of the society, he said and added that the Government should take this issue seriously and take action against the guilty.

WORD OF THE DAY

Decoct

Pronunciation: dih-KAHKT

Meaning: Extract the essence from something by heating or boiling it.

Origin: Decoct boils down to a simple Latin origin: the word decoquere, from de-, meaning "down" or "away," and coquere, meaning "to cook" or "to ripen." Decoct itself is somewhat rare. Its related noun decoction, which refers to either an extract obtained by decocting or the act or process of decocting, is slightly more common but still much less recognisable than some other members of the coquere family, among gastronomical words like biscuit, biscotti, cook, and kitchen. Other coquere descendants include concoct ("to prepare by combining raw materials" or "to devise or fabricate"), concoction ("something concocted"), and precocious ("exceptionally early in development or occurrence" or "exhibiting mature qualities at an unusually early age").

Examples: "Though the taste is a bonus, the real draw in this caffeine-free latte is the CBD, or cannabidiol, oil. The CBD served in the lattes is derived from Kentucky-grown hemp, decocted from the flowers and leaves with hot dairy or coconut milk." — Mackensy Lunsford, The Asheville (North Carolina) Citizen-Times, 2 Mar. 2018."The cooking liquor he decocts from roasted red peppers ... gives surprising oomph to roasted rice purée and royal red potato." — Lee Tran Lam, The Gourmet Traveller, 3 Jan. 2018.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Don't call us, we'll call you

Meaning: Used as a dismissive way of saying that someone has not been successful in an audition or job application.

Origin: A fuller version of this phrase would be 'Don't call us, we'll call you - if we need to'. Of course, anyone hearing this line can reasonably expect not to need to wait by the phone. It is a quite recent phrase - mid 20th century American, and appears to derive from the brush-off lines given to theatrical auditioners. The earliest citation comes across is in the Ohio newspaper The Toledo Blade, March 1944, in Dorothy Kilgallen's column The Voice Of Broadway. It is sufficiently clichéd now to be often shortened to "don't call us" and widespread enough to be used as a term of rejection in a variety of circumstances.
